

THE STORY OF IRELAND

History Detectives: Activity 2

In the previous activity you made a list of questions to ask your relatives to help you discover the big changes to people's lives in your area, what caused them and what effects they had.

Ask as many people as possible to answer these questions and using your research, decide what was the most significant changes or events in the history of your area and write about it in the box below. See if you can find photographs/old newspaper cuttings at home or on the internet, and show them to the class as further evidence of what you have discovered.
