

THE STORY OF IRELAND

To School: Activity 2

We take it for granted that we go to school. We have what is called a right to education. The law says so. It wasn't always this way in Ireland. Read pages 60-61 very carefully. In the box below make a list of all the ways your class is different from the way schools were then.

Which way do you prefer and why? I prefer ...